

NOAH Certificate in Animal Health (NCAH)

Acceptance onto the NOAH Certificate of Animal Health on-line revision course and examination is initially via this form, we will then send you a link for on-line enrolment as a Harper Adams University student, which will ask for further details. Please return this following document, fully filled out, to: animalswd@harper-adams.ac.uk

- Your personal details
- Your M Number
- Full invoicing details

Your Personal Details

Surname
Forenames
Title (Mr, Mrs, Miss, Ms, Dr, etc)
Date of Birth
Gender (male, female, other)
Home address and postcode
Telephone (daytime during work hours)
E-mail address (must be one that is accessed regularly as all correspondence will be sent to this address)

Invoicing Details

Purchase Order Number – obtainable from your Finance Office
Who is paying for tuition costs? (tick the box)	<input type="checkbox"/> Through my own business/self-funding <input type="checkbox"/> Employer
Full billing address and postcode
Named contact, their e-mail contact details and a telephone number

Full invoicing information is essential for our Short Courses department, who will be invoicing either your employer, or if self-funded, yourself. Our default is to invoice the student, therefore if details are not filled out you will be invoiced for the full tuition costs.

M Number

My NOAH M number is:
----------------------	--

Please note that Harper Adams University will need to know your M number so we know you have registered with NOAH. The M number was given to you by NOAH when you registered with them and received the large, green training manual. If we do not receive the M number this will delay your application as we will return your form to you.

On-line Training Material and Examination

On acceptance as a student, you will be sent your login details for online enrolment. Following completion of online enrolment you will receive a confirmation email with a guide to accessing the on-line learning resources (known as The Learning Hub), including details of our IT helpdesk if you have any issues getting onto the Hub. The University will ensure that you have access to the on-line resources.

The pre-recorded lectures will be available on the Hub, with a question and answer forum and contact details for our lecturers, should you have further questions on the learning materials. This will be available to you all the time that you are a registered student with Harper Adams University.

The examination for the NCAH will be via an open book format, whereby you will be sent an examination paper and have up to one month to complete this and upload it to the Learning Hub. Full details will be sent when you are given access to the Learning Hub.
